Subject: IT Resources

Guys, in response to the offsite, Beth Perleman is now a dedicated ENA resource on the IT side of the business. She will be joining the ENA Management Team of which you are all a part. She will participate in the Friday Management Meeting to address IT issues and opportunities. On Friday May 18th, Beth will go over her management team and her available resources. At every Friday meeting, she will present the current project queue (with associated cost/capital budget and sponser) and the Management Team will set priorities and necessary incremental resources.

Regards
Delainey
