Rick:

I received a message from Mike McConnell yesterday about co-ordination in the middle east. I think ur experiences with EBS relate to some people who may have visited ur region before I took over. I do not think that u will have a problem working with Anil. He understands the sensitivities and has worked in the Middle East earlier for over 5 years. I have asked him to co-ordinate with ur team. Pls help him get started.

Sanjay

Dear Rick,

You might remember me; we met in September when you visited Metgas in Mumbai with the LNG team. At the time I presented a piece on the MetGas equity sale and opportunities of cooperation with the Indian Oil Company.

Following Sanjay's new role in the organisation, he has now charged me with developing the EBS business in the Middle East. In this regard I had a telecon with Mac McClelland yesterday, the details of which are copied in the mail below.

I would like to visit Dubai possibly next week to see the Dubai Internet City, meet with senior officials at the Internet and Media cities to identify what opportunities there could be for EBS.

We look forward to closely cooperating with you and your team in Dubai.

With best regards, Anil

on the web. We would like to see this facility, meet with the relevant people in the Communications group and establish what business opportunities could be available for EBS. From our understanding, the DIC infrastructure has being developed by Siemens, Sun and Cisco. Fibre connectivity is provided by a local telecom party.
Business potential. We would be developing a business plan for the Middle East region and would like to identify what support we could get from Enron's immendate presence in the region, in the way of direction.
Immediate business opportunity. What are the low hanging fruit for EBS in the Middle East region and what are the first areas we should focus on that would give us success, to quickly neutralize cost.
How do we get multiple entry visas for Dubai. Is it possible to get a one (or three) month visa. Can we them for coming Sunday or would it be a rush? We have Canadian and Danish passports.

I will call you at 12 noon (Dubai time) this morning.

With best regards, Anil
