Subject: 2001 Annual Meeting, Rogers Award and 52nd Oil & Gas Institute in San Antonio

TO: Members of the Advisory Board of the International Oil and Gas Educational Center

FROM: Pat Martin, Chair

I am very pleased to tell you that the Alamo [http://www.thealamo.org/] and adjacent Alamo Hall [http://www.thealamo.org/map_nojs.html] will be the venue for our annual Advisory Board reception and dinner on Wednesday, February 14, 2001.

Our Annual Meeting of the Advisory Board will be conducted earlier that afternoon at the Hilton Palacio del Rio on San Antonio's River Walk [http://hotx.com/rb/]. Details and an RSVP form about both the meeting and the dinner that evening will be mailed to you in early January. February 14 is also Valentines Day, so mark your calendar now to attend the Annual Meeting and plan to bring your spouse or guest with you to our very special dinner event at the Alamo that night.

I am equally pleased to announce that the recipient of the IOGEC's 2001 John Rogers Award -- and featured speaker at the award ceremony -- will be Enron Chairman and CEO, Ken Lay. The award will be presented at a special hosted reception and dinner ceremony on Thursday, February 15, 2001 at the unique Institute of Texan Cultures [http://www.texancultures.utsa.edu/main/].

Our Advisory Board meeting and festivities as usual immediately precede our annual Institute on Oil and Gas Law and Taxation. The 52d Annual Institute will be held Thursday-Friday, February 15-16, 2001, at the Hilton Palacio del Rio [http://www.hilton.com/hotels/SATPDHH/index.html;$sessionid$4UKQTPQAAADTBJ31AO

DSFFI?_requestid=10505] on the River Walk. Institute Co-Chairs Bill Schwind, Brad Keithley and Dennis Grindinger have assembling an outstanding and innovative program, including:

* optional multi-session segments on US Onshore, Federal/US Offshore, International, Environmental, Litigation and Emerging Issues,

* presentations by top federal oil and gas officials, including the Chairman of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC), the Director of the Minerals Management Service (MMS) and the Director of the Office of Foreign Asset Control (OFAC),

* presentations by top state oil and gas officials, including Commissioners of the Texas Railroad Commission and the Louisiana Office of Conservation and the Vice Chair of the Oklahoma Corporation Commission, * presentations by top law school faculty, including Professors Earnest E. Smith from the University of Texas, Bruce Kramer from Texas Tech University, Ira Shepard of the University of Houston and Martin J. McMahon of the University of Florida, ■■ presentations by top oil and gas attorneys, including Williams Companies SVP and General Counsel Bill von Glahn, former Coastal Corp. General Counsel Mike Beatty and former EEX SVP and General Counsel and current IOGEC Vice Chair Janice Hartrick, and

* tours of San Antonio and its historical sites for registrants' family and friends during the Institute.

The Institute materials will be provided to Institute registrants on CD as well as in the traditional notebook. As they have been for 51 years, the papers by the Institute faculty will ultimately be edited and published by Matthew Bender & Company in its annual Proceedings of the Oil and Gas Law and Taxation Institute.

An Institute brochure with further information about the Institute, the Rogers Award ceremony and related events in San Antonio will be mailed to you shortly after Thanksgiving.

I remind you that as a member of the Advisory Board of the IOGEC [http://www.swlegal.org/iogec/], you are entitled to attend this cornucopia of professional, educational and social events cost-free:

* the Advisory Board Annual Meeting on Wednesday afternoon,
* the Advisory Board reception and dinner at the Alamo on Wednesday evening

(you are invited to bring your spouse or guest to this special event without charge),

* the John Rogers Award Reception and Dinner at the Institute of Texan Cultures on Thursday evening (tickets for your spouse or guest will be available for purchase), as well as

* the entire Oil & Gas Law and Taxation Institute, including the two-day program and a hosted luncheon on Friday.

The Institute is followed by a three-day weekend (Presidents Day is Monday, February 19, 2001), and San Antonio is Texas' top tourist destination for many good reasons, so I look forward to seeing you in February in San Antonio
